Mexico. - The present condition of affairs in Mexico is deplorable enough, with the almost certain prospect of being considerably worse before it is any better. The Constitution, elaborated with so much care and trouble during the last eighteen months, and which is indeed a very perfect thing in itself, has been formally adopted by the constituent Congress, and is to be proclaimed in September next; but, even if the Government at that time shall retain force enough to put it in operation, it is extremely doubtful if it will operate successfully. Constitutions of government, to be anything but ifeless parchments, should be founded on the status of the people rather than upon ideas of abstract right and fitness. Solon, when asked whether he had provided the best of laws for the Athenians, answered, "The best they were capable of." This idea of adaptation embraces the whole essence and philosophy of legislation. Unfortunately there is too much reason to suspect that the lawgivers of Mexico have paid but little regard to it. If the accounts we have seen of the new Constitution are correct, it is more worthy of one of the Abbe Sieye's pigeon holes than the archives of a living State. Tried by an absolute standard, it casts even our own Constitution into the shade. It is too perfect to live and we have no idea that it will. Like the infant that died a minute old, it threatens to be done for so quick as to induce the people to wonder what it was begun for.

In the meantime, the provisional government of Comonfort has but a slender chance of keeping accident allowed the Galena to get ahed, which vesits head above water until the new government is launched. Assailed on all sides, and in all possible of course takes the prize of $400 offered by the St. forms, by the partisans of Santa Anna, by the revolutionists, by the church, and by the robbers that swarm in every province, its hold upon power is daily growing laxer, and must soon relax complete-If, as there is great reason to fear, this shall happen before the constitutional government is ready to get under way, the result must be reinless anarchy and confusion. Unquestionably the failure of Mr. Forsyth's ingenious scheme for depleting our esury in behalf of Comonfort's Government has left it less able to cope with its enemies than it otherwise would have been, though, in any event, it could not, for reasons we need hardly repeat, have sustained itself long. There is nothing stable in Mexico, but almost everything is more stable than the Government. Instability, especially political instability, is a chronic vice of the Mexican character. If not inborn, it is at least inbred, and probably ineradicable

There is no likelihood, however, that the overthrow of Comonfort's Government will be hastened by the much talked of Spanish question, which, as we predicted, turns out to be the merest shadow of a question. M. La Fragua, the Special Envoy desnatched by Comonfort to Spain, was in Paris at the last advices in communication with the Spanish Government, and on the point of proceeding to Madrid to go through the form of an explanation. Our next intelligence from that quarter will no doubt announce the formal reconciliation of the two Governments. We wish that our next intelligence from Mexico itself promised to be as satisfactory. But unluckily it does not, and we fear the worst.

"Ion," the well-known Washington corres pondent of the Baltimore Sun, taking up the recent hint of the New York Herald in relation to British policy in China, says: "England may expect to find in China that resource for a supply of cotton for her manufacturers, which she had heretofore failed to American exportations, and it promises to become find in her East India possessions." Unhappily for the force of this suggestion, it is a well attested fact that China annually imports cotton from the East

NEW ALBANY ELECTION.—The election in New Albany, Tuesday, resulted as follows: Mayor, Franklin Warren; Treasurer, Wm. W. Weir; Clerk, Wm. V. Tuley; Marshal, Geo. Reisinger; Engineer, L. B. Wilson; Attorney, J. H. Stotsenburg; Assessor, J. C. Joeelyn; Street Commissioner, Wm. T. Bosley. RIVER AND STEAMBOAT MATTERS.

The river was still rising last evening with about 8 feet water on the falls. All the boats that now arrive pass the falls. The weather yesterday afternoon was beautiful.

The Cumberland was rising on Monday evening with 7 feet water on the shoals.

The R. J. Ward for New Orleans .- This magnificent steamer leaves for New Orleans this evening. The Ward's accommodations and her fare are une qualled. She has established such a reputation that all the rooms have already been secured for her next trip up from New Orleans. Capt. Miller, her commander, and Messrs. Smith and Grey, who are the clerks, are gentlemen who bestow every attention to

The fleet steamer Rainbow is at the city wharf and will leave for New Orleans on Saturday. She has been newly painted and renovated, and is in fine condition

The Gen. Pike will leave for St. Louis and St. Paul this morning.

The Statesman, Capt. Sullivan, will leave for Henderson this evening.

The D. A. Given is the regular packet for Nashville this evening. We are glad to see that she is well patronised. She was receiving considerable freight yesterday, among it a large portion of agricultural implements.

The Dove did not come down yesterday, but she will be here to-day, and will start for the Kentucky river this evening.

The Emma Dean is the Carrollton packet, and the Telegraph is the mailboat for Cincinnati.

The splendid steamer Northerner will be up this evening and leave for Memphis to-morrow.

We are indebted to the attentive officers of the Alvin Adams and Emma Dean for copies of their manifests.

We copy the following items from our St. Louis exchanges:

Gave up her Trip.—The steamer Michigan, which was receiving for the Missouri river and would have left last evrning, was obliged to give up her trip for want of a pilot. Pilots for the Missouri river are in want of a pilot. Pilots for the Missouri river are in great demand. The Michigan was paying here $1,000 per month. Another boat wanted pilots, and was willing to give $2,400 for two months' service. The liberal offer got the pilot, and the Michigan reshipped her freight and passengers on the Oceana, in consequence. The Michigan will be still for awhile, and will probably go South, when there are better prospects for business than at present.

To be Torn Up.—The Keokuk packet Thomas Swann has made her last trip, and is to be torn up and her machinery put into a new boat, now building for the Keokuk trade. The work of demolition commenced this morning, directly after her arrival.

The wreck of the steamer Chicago was sold at Pittsburg at auction on Saturday for the benefit of the owners and underwriters for $2,100.

Boat Building at Mobile.—A late Mobile Advertiser

Messrs. J. M. & T. Meaher have lately launched a fine light draught boat for the summer trade, the Chief Justice Taney. The hull was built by Mr. C. B. Butler, cabin by E. P. Chappell, and the iron work, engines, &c., by R. S. Kirk & Co. She has all the modern improvements with such additions as the experience of her proprietors might suggest. The dimensions are as follows: 224 feet over all; 27 feet floor, 29 feet heam 44/ feet hold, and draws as The dimensions are as follows: 224 feet over all; 27 feet floor, 29 feet beam, 4½ feet hold, and draws as she now stands (with her engines, shafts, and cabin nearly completed) 18 inches aft and 5 inches forward. She has capacity for 1,800 bales of cotton and berths for 185 passengers. She has two engines of 8 feet stroke and 17½ inch cylinders.

This is, we believe, the sixth boat of the Messrs. Meahers' construction. We understand that the keel of a seventh will be laid shortly.

Lake Pepin was opened to navigation last Thursday. The vessel that first broke through the ice was the War Eagle, but as she neared the head of the Lake a man fell overboard, and the delay caused by the sel reached St. Paul early on Friday morning, and Paul folks to the first vessel through.

The steamer Falls City, in endeavoring to force her way through the ice, sunk, after getting about three miles, on Thursday.

The gentleman who was drowned on the Julia Dean is supposed to be Mr. Townsend Rowland, of Mt. Carmel.

AMERICAN MARBLE .- The fine texture and exceeding beauty of American marble is beginning to attract the attention of European marble manufac turers. The Boston Atlas learns that the Verde Antique Marble Company, working the quarries of this beautiful ornamental marble, at Roxbury, Vermont, have recently shipped several blocks on order to France, and have within a few days received an order from one of the most prominent dealers in London for a quantity in the rough block. In both England and France it is said to be superior to the Italian veined marbles now used, and must hereafter, to a large extent, supply their places. This is said to be the first instance where marble has been exported to Europe on the order of a European manufacturer. Our marbles have been considered inferior to the Italian articles, but there are in this country many quarries of colored marble that cannot be excelled by any in the world. The black and variegated marble from the quarries of the Louisville and Arkansas Marble and Mining Company, on White river, in Arkansas, are unsurpassed in beauty and fineness of grain. The specimens that have been sawed out and manufactured and dressed for various purposes present a more polished surface and more beautiful and durable color than any other that has been worked, whether native or imported. We understand that propositions have been entertained for the sale of these quarries to an English company, which will get out the marble solely for exportation to Europe. This is a new feature in very important one to our country.

Mr. Robert Colrin, of Campbellsville, had 48 hhds of tobacco sold at the Picket Warehouse during the last four days at prices ranging from $10 to $19 25 per hundred, averaging $14 25. The gross proceeds of the entire lot amounts to $9,955 44.

There were sales at St. Louis on Tuesday of 1,500 bales hemp, at prices ranging from $125 to $140 per ton.

BAPTIST ANNIVERSARIES. - General Association. The meetings of this body were protracted throughout yesterday, and continued to grow in interest. It Higgins, Geo. W. Williams, Thos. L. Garrett, and is said thas the delegation is the largest ever assembled at any State religious meeting in Kentucky. We know that it embraces a large amount of talent and dignity, in both the clerical and lay departments. Hon. E. B. Bartlett presides with much efficiency, and the discussions are characterized by great spirit.

Yesterday reports were made upon Sunday Schools, Education, Temperance, Bible Cause, &c. That upon Temperance was somewhat desultory in its character, and embraced a notice of the prevailing fashion of hoops and high-heeled shoes. The general sentiment of the members appeared to be that of non-interference in the Temperance cause.

The next annual meeting of the General Association is to be held at Georgetown in May, 1858. Last night a report upon Foreign Missions was read, and able addresses delivered by Rev. A. M. Poindexter, of Virginia, and Rev. Russel Holman, of Alabama. The Association resumes its sessions this morning at 81% o'clock.

Educational Convention. - This morning at 11 o'clock a convention of Delegates from all the Southern States will assemble to consu't concerning the advancement of the educational interests of the Baptists in the South. Its chief object will be the organization of a central theological school, upon which all the energies, resources, and talents of the denomination may be concentrated.

Rev. Dr. Basil Manly, of Charleston, S. C., for twenty years the able and learned President of the University of Alabama, will preside.

THE LEXINGTON VARIETIES .- Wood Benson Our friends in Lexington will soon find themselves ensconced in one of the most elegant, convenient, and perfectly arranged little theaters in the Union. Their Odd Fellows Hall has been expressly fitted up for the purposes of the drama by the exertions of Mr. Hough, the lesse. But not only will they find pleasant seats and fastidious arrangements throughout, but a company of fine actors.

Mr. Wood Benson is the stage manager. A new field for the genius of the irresistibily comic man, as some may think. But such is not the case. There are few persons who have been so thoroughly trained in the profession, and none who have had greater advantages in acquiring a correct knowledge of all the intricacies connected with the stage. Mr. Benson is conversant with theatricals modern and ancient, and can put a play upon the boards in the most skilful manner. Besides, he is one of the most genial, wide-awake, and fascinating comedians to be found any where. Lexington will soon learn to ap-

TRAVELS IN CENTRAL AFRICA.—Very gradually through the enterprise and Christian heroism of civilized Europe and America that terra incognita which lies beyond "Africa's burning sands" is being explored, and the mysteries enveloping that wonderful continent being dissipated. The latest contribution to geographical and ethnological discovery in that part of the land is from the pen of Rev. T. J. Bowen, a Missionary of the Southern Baptist Convention. He spent several years in exploring the very heart of Africa, and went into cities and countries where never before the face of a white man had been seen. This book is of rare interest. It is thrilling as a work of travels and possesses double value in the estimation of the philanthropist who would see Ethiopia stretch out her hands, and a whole continent regenerated.

Mr. Bowen's volume is published at Charleston, S. C., by the Baptist Publication Society, the Financial Secretary of which is now in the sity. This gentleman, Mr. J. J. Toon, will supply all orders

IMMERSION BY MR. BEECHER .- Pierreport Street Baptist Church, in Brooklyn, was densely crowded Wednesday evening on the occasion of the administration of baptism by immersion, in which Rev.

Henry Ward Beecher officiated. The regular Wednesday evening lecture of Plymouth Church was held there, and the baptism took place immediately has been thrown to the winds under the new and held there, and the baptism took place immediately after the services. While the last hymn was being sung, Mr. Beecher and the candidates for immersion retired. The floor of the platform was removed, revealing beneath it a tank, entered by steps at either end, the water in which was about three and a half feet deep. When the hymn was concluded, the candidates presented themselves and were conducted into the water, one by one, and immersed by Mr. Beecher, repeating the usual formula.

EXAMINATION AT THE HIGH SCHOOL.-The pupils at the Male High School who have been pursuing classical studies under Prof. Schenck, were examined yesterday. They displayed the most thorough and critical knowledge of the Greek and Latin, not merely giving bald translations of sentences and words, but giving exhibition of their possessing a correct and critical knowledge of the language. It is evident that under Prof. S.'s tutelage these young lads will become proficient linguists, and that

A ministerial crisis in Canada has resulted in the resignation of Mr. Cauchon, Commissioner of Crown Lands. THE CHINA MISSION.—It is said that Mr. Reid, the newly appointed Minister to China, will not be able to depart on his mission till June. The frigate which is to convey him will not be ready till some time in that month. His main object will be to obtain a new and more liberal treaty, in the place of the treaty of Whang-hoe, which expired nearly a year ago. It is urged that the American Minister should have the right of a residence at Pekin, which was once very nearly secured, according to the Washington correspondent of the New York Journal of Commerce, who savs:

Our Minister, Mr. McLane, was, at one time, about to go to Pekin, with the Emperor's permission. He would have been invited to go, but for the reason that it would have involved the necessity of extending the same privilege to the British representative. It was nothing but the jealousy and the hatred of the English that prevented the access of the American Minister to the Imperial present. This fact I received from the highest enthesism. This fact I received from the highest authority. It is an illustration of the relative position of the two nations towards the Chinese government, and is clearly indicative of the amicable line of policy that the United States ought to pursue in any attempt to obtain comparating a writers for Chinese obtain commercial privileges from China

THE PRESIDENT'S HEALTH .- The Washington correspondent of the New York Courier and Enquirer writes:

The illness of the President has excited some solicitude, but he says of himself that he is getting well. He looks pale and worn out. The Democratic papers are earnestly discussing his symptoms, and some of them bluntly express their belief that he was poisoned. When the first suggestion of so shocking a crime was thrown out, it appeared to re-coil upon that wing of the Democracy which prefer-red Mr. Breckinridge as President to Mr. Buchanan. It should, on that account, have been promptly hushed np, but is revived for some purpose of politi-cal malignity.

REJECTION OF THE DALLAS-CLARENDON TREATY. Washington, April 3, A. M.—Highly important dispatches were received to-day at the State Department, brought by the Africa. General Cass has just meut, brought by the Africa. General Cass has just received a communication from Mr. Dallas, announcing that the British Government has rejected the Dallas-Clarendon treaty. This rejection has not been accompanied, as yet, by any explanation of an extensive character, but by the next steamer it is expected that a full statement of the views of the British Government will be forwarded by Mr. Dallas Dallas.

The British Minister, Lord Napier, has also received the same intelligence. It has much astonished him, as he has been predicting, ever since his arrival here, that his Government would offer no difficulties to the ratification of the treaty.

difficulties to the ratification of the treaty.

There is a great deal of excitement at the White House and the State Department at this unexpected announcement of the rejection of the treaty by the British Government. It was communicated to the other legations without loss of time. The French Minister took the matter coelly, for he seems not to understand much about diplomatic affairs. The Russian Minister was much much delighted at this new imbroglio between the two Anglo-Saxon Governments, the union of whom in any great policy is considered hostile to the interests of Russia, both in the East and the West.

considered hostile to the interests of Russia, both in the East and the West.

It is believed both by the President and General Cass, that this rejection of the Dallas-Clarendon treaty has been produced by a disposition on the part of Lord Clarendon to take satisfaction out of the American Government for the snubbings which the British Government received on the enlistment question.

If the recent elections in England had gone against Lord Palmerston, it is probable that the British Government would have accepted the treaty without any words. After such a triumph, however, as he has had, and with a working majority of over a hundred, his lordship snaps his fingers at the Yankee Government, and is determined to show them that he will not be dictated to by the President and Senate on any question connected with dent and Senate on any question connected with

This unexpected and singular rejection of the treaty by the British Government, throws all our relations with England, on the Central American and has been thrown to the white and the first extraordinary movement of Lord Palmerston to reveng himself and take satisfaction out of the American Government for the dismissal of the former British minister and the three consuls.

Until this is done some of the provisions of the Dallas-Clarendon treaty cannot properly, in view of the English Government, be accepted. Commercial Advertiser we make the following extracts:

I detailed to you in a late letter the projects and recommendations of General d'Orgoni in regard to a commercial treaty between the United States and Birmah. I return to the subject in order to inform you that, on the recommendation of the French government and the American Minister at Paris, Gend'Orgoni contemplates sailing soon for the United States, to urge this matter in person upon the Cabinet of Washington. At the same time he intends to contract for the building of two war steamers for the use of the Birmah government. This intelligence I have from the General himself, and nothing will prevent the accomplishment of his object but some untoward circumstance in the Birmah empire, within a very short period, demanding his recall.

The inauguration of the Bordeaux and Cette Railroad, which unites the Atlantic and Mediterranean Seas, offered a spectacle that has been much remarked at Paris, for it is a singular contrast with events not very remote. The Catholic clergy, in a very considerable number, attended this celebration, with a Cardinal Archbishop at their head, and standing up with the two Hebrew Pereires in their midst, lauded the road as a propagator of civilization and the Christian religion, and eulogized its two builders as great benefactors to their country. If we go back but a very few years we find that the Catholic Church was opposed to these industrial enterprises, as inaugurating an era of progress dangerous to the supremacy of the Church; and if we go back a little farther still, we find that it was formerly the custom in this very city of Toulouse, and on this very same day of the year, for a Catholic priest publicly to strike a Jew a violent blow on the head in one of the churches, in order to remind the race of their degraded position before the Christian world. Things have changed for the better.

I have no favorable news to give you in regard to the unfortunate failure of Green & Co. The general impression seems to be that the hous

The Imperial Academy of Lyons has offered a premium of nine hundred francs for the best essay on the improvements made on steam as a motive power since the days of Watt. The essays must be sent to the Academy before the first of November, 1859. The prospects of the silk crop in France and Italy will be anxiously regarded during the next six weeks. Appearances at present are encouraging. With respect to the European grain harvests, it is too early to form any strong anticipations. In England the season thus far has been all that could be desired for agricultural operations.

Letters have just been received by the Government from Mr. Bowlin, our Minister at Bogota, and Mr. Corwine, concerning the state of affairs. These letters were written after Mr. Morse, the special Minister, had left. Mr. Morse is on his way to this city, from New Orleans, with his report.

Mr. Bowlin writes that the new administration which had just gone into power in New Grenada was of a liberal and enlightened character, and that, in his opinion, they would settle the pending difficulties with the United States in a fair manner. Mr. Corwine also writes that the difficulties may now be settled, but recommends that the U. S. Government take the precaution to present a strong naval force, both at Panama and Aspinwall.

The intelligence from the guano islands is very gratifying, as it affords a promise of ultimate relief from the Peruvian monopoly. It justifies the action of the Government in relation to these and other new discoveries. On Monday, the 4th inst., George Settle, aged 17 ears, after a long and painful illness of ten months. On Monday, the 4th inst., GEORGE SETTILE aged IT years, after a long and painful lilness of ten months.

Death has again sought the circle of our friends and snatched from our midst one whom we all loved and whose loss we must all deeply mourn, and, in his mysterious nature, he has laid his hand where mostly it would be felt and plucked from our companionship one around whom memory shall ever linger with its fondest recollections. In him whose death we mourn was blended the characteristics and the virtues we all admire and love to gaze upon. Even while the heavy and afflicting dispensations of Providence were laid upon him he yielded not to murnuring or discontent, but, with a spirit of heavenly resignation, he bore them all and said God is good. Truly prous and with an abiding faith and confidence in the justice and goodness of God, he seemed resigned to His will; and when death summoned him from earth he left it as one going to his home, and from the sweet and undisturbed smile that lingered when his soul had fied we gathered the endearing thought that he had fallen asleep in Jesus. Let me die the death of the righteous, and let my last end be like his.

THE AMERICAN SQUADRON IN THE CHINESE WA-TERS-List of Vessels to be Sent Out .- The steamfrigates Minnesota and Mississippi and the sloop-ofwar Germantown are now fitting out with all despatch to reinforce our squadron in the Chinese seas, which is at present much too small to protect the extended commerce of the United States now employed in the waters of China.

Every day in the year thousands of tons of American shipping, with cargoes valued by the million, are floating in the five opened ports of China-Canton, Whampoa, Amoy, Foo-chow-foo, and Shanghae-and we have but three vessels, mounting only fifty-five guns, to protect this vast amount of property.

The following vessels-of-war bearing the flag of the United States are now on the coast of China:

When the above vessels arrive out there we shall have a force of one hundred and twenty-seven guns on that station, most of which are of the heaviest calibre; and, if their services should be required, the Celestials will find them a weighty argument in

THE VARIETIES.

Gen. Todleben, the distinguished military engineer, to whose skill the successful defense of Sebastopol for many months is chiefly due, was at the latest dates in Paris. In reply to a question by the Emperor, he is reported to have said that, if the French and English armies, after the battle of the Alma, had marched directly on Sebastopol, they could have taken it at once, as there were but two or three battalions of Russian troops in it at the time. If they had done this what a saving of human life and suffering there would have been.

Lady Franklin proposes to send out another arctic expedition in search of her long lost husband. It is perfect madness, but "hope springs immortal in the human breast," and there may be another motive. We have heard from parties that we have reason to believe acquainted with the facts, that Lady F, and her husband parted on bad terms, and that it was this that induced him to engage in his unfortunate expedition. Repentance on the part of the lady, in addition to her natural love, now induces her to feel that it is her chief duty in life to make what reparation she can for her unwitting but fatal offense. If this be so it will account for what, otherwise, would seem almost monomania. The world is full of tragedies, and not the fewest are found in domestic life.

Among other items from Europe by the Africa, it is stated that Horace Vernet, the eminent French painter, has been invited to Washington to paint the portrait of Mr. Buchanan. It has previously been stated that he had received a commission to fill one of the panels of the rotunda of the Capitol, which he could do most worthily, but we doubt whether any portrait of his would excel what Elliott or Huntington could paint.

Eggs, to the value of nearly one and a half million dollars, were imported into England last year. Ten million dollars' worth of guano was also imported during the same time.

According to the Courrier Franco-Italien, M. Caruana, historical painter of Valetta, in the Island of Malta, has discovered that slate is superior to wood for engravings. It is, he alleges, easily worked, reproduces the finest lines with remarkable exactness, and resists longer than wood the action of the typographical press, so that several thousand copies of a design can be struck off without medicing any san sign can be struck off without producing any sensible difference in the quality of the impression

STOCK SALES IN BOURBON .- The Paris Flag reports the following sales at the last Bourbon County

Mr. Hibler, one of the six auctioneers engaged, Mr. Hibler, one of the six auctioneers engaged, reports about 1,500 head of mules on hand and several hundred head of cattle. He sold $44,389 worth of mules, as follows: 39 head of 2 year olds at $113 per head, 39 at $111, 77 at $101, 14 at $95, others at $99, $93, $92, $86, $80, $78, and $64. We noticed a sale by Mr. Delph of 51 head at $135. Cattle sold from $15 to $38 per head. Horses sold for good prices, ranging from $50 to $330. We heard of sales of Bourbon whisky, this season's make, at 80a90c per gallon.

ATTEMPT AT MURDER .- The Madison Courier

On night before last, at half-past 10 o'clock, an attempt was made to drown a man named Shank, at the Palmetto wharf. The unfortunate man had been taken by some persons, the names of whom we did not learn, who, after tying his hands behind him to prevent his escape by swimming, threw him in and left him to drown. The attempt was frustrated by Mr. Ely, who jumped into the river and saved him from a watery grave.

THE FRENCH VINES .- The Moniteur Vinicolæ of Bercy says:

We learn with satisfaction that over all France the vines are improving under the present favorable temperature. In many places, we are glad to state, where the oidium raged last year, sulphur has been blown over the vines with most satisfactory results. Notwithstanding the fine appearance of the vineyards, the price of wine has not diminished, although a very sensible decline in the demand has

THE BALTIMORE AND OHIO RAILROAD RIOTS-Serious Fights .- Last Saturday the company despatched three trains from Baltimore under a military escort that had been detailed for the purpose by the Governor of Maryland. The trains proceeded without molestation until they had reached Jackson's bridge-there the rioters were posted. Of the succeeding operations, the Baltimore Patriot of

Monday gives the following account: Monday gives the following account:

Notwithstanding the condition of the g ound from the rain which had been and was still falling, on the hills and on each side of the road were stationed bodies of men with muskets, shot guns, and other weapons of warfare. The larger body of the rioters were at the bridge, and as the head of the train passed under it the attack was commenced by hurling stones upon the cars, and firing into them without, however, doing any mjury. At the mouth of the bridge was planted a swivel, which, from the smoke seen to issue from it, it was supposed they attempted to discharge, but it missed fire. The military returned the fire, killing one and wounding several others. The one killed was named Henry Howser.

The next point of attack was the deep cut near

The next point of attack was the deep cut near

The next point of attack was the deep cut near the four mile house. Here the firing was pretty sharp on both sides, the rioters ensoonsing themselves behind the trees in the vicinity, and shooting from these positions in Indian fashion.

No other parties were met with after passing this point. At Lee's water station, between Illchester and Ellicott's Mill's, the train was detained three hours in consequence of an accident that occurred to the train coming east. This was caused by a large rock which had been loosened by the rain and rolled down wore the track striking the tender, breaking rock which had been loosened by the rain and rolled down upon the track, striking the tender, breaking the running gear into pieces, crushing two freight cars, and throwing the locomotive from the track, which was somewhat damaged, but fortunately no one was injured. The train, therefore, did not reach Ellicott's Mills until after nine o'clock. Here the military and sheriff's party left the trains, which proceeded on without further interruption, and reached Martinsburg yesterday morning at nine o'clock.

At 11 o'clock they prepared to return to the city, and the train moved along at a moderate rate of speed until they came in sight of Jackson's bridge, when, it being reported that the hill was clear and no person appearing to view a higher rate. when, it being reported that the lim was clear and no person appearing to view, a higher rate of speed was put on. They had not gained over a mile when the train was brought to a sudden halt from the engine having been thrown from the track by a concerted piece of ingenuity hardly possible to have been conceived. The tender, together with the four been conceived. The tender, together with the four burden cars, was smashed to pieces by this attempt at wholesale murder. On the engine were stationed a number of the military under Lieut. Parks, of the city guard, all of whom leaped off the moment she left the track. We are compelled to add, that m so doing some were injured, one quite seriously. This was private John Ellens, of the guards; he had his left leg broken between the knee and ankle, and his right leg badly cut. Private Hall, of the greys, was bruised about the head and neck, and Lieut. Parks was also injured though not seriously. Dr. James Stewart, surgeon of the regiment, who was on the train, rendered every assistance to the wounded, and as soon as a conveyance could be got they were removed to the city by the way of Washington road under a strong guard.

could be got they were removed to the city by the way of Washington road under a strong guard.

There being a number of burden trains from the West lying at the Relay House, ready to come to the city, the hands on which desiring protection, a requisition was yesterday made upon Capt. Bowers, of the Law Greys, and the company turned out with full ranks. At 5 o'clock they left the Camden Station in the passenger train for Washington, and were set down at the Relay House, where the necessary arrangements having been made, the trains started for the city and reached Mount Clare without having encountered any interruption.

having encountered any interruption.

Five trains will go out this afternoon, accompanied by five military companies. This embodies nearly all the freight that has been collecting at this point. The arrangements have been so planned that we think the rioters will be successfully and finally baffled, and that no further obstruction will be laid in the way to prevent the future and timely departure of all burden trains leaving this place.

We learn that bodies of the rioters have called upon the engineers and brakemen now in the employ of the company, at their houses, and used threats to intimidate them in the performance of their duty. The parties are well known and will be arrested.

[From the Kansas City Enterprise, May 2d.] LATEST FROM THE MOUNTAINS.

Murder by the Blackfeet Indians—A Great Fight and Great Victory by the Snakes—The Cheyennes Pre-paring for War with the Troops, &c.

Tim Goodell, the celebrated mountaineer and guide, arrived in this city on Monday last. He spent the winter on Green river, west of the Rocky Mountains. The winter was one of the most severe ever known. The Utah Indians on Bitter creek lost ever known. The Utah Indians on Bitter creek lost almost their entire stock of horses. From Mr. Goodell we learn the following particulars:

At the crossing of the North Platte he met an Indian trader named Saunders, who had just returned from an expedition in search of a Crow village. His party consisted at setting out of three white men and four Crow Indians. They were attacked on Powder river by a party of thirty Blackfeet, who killed one of the white men, named Scott, a Canadian trader, and two of the Crows. Saunders was dian trader, and two of the Crows. Saunders was wounded in the shoulder.

About three days after the above occurrence, a band of Snake Indians came across a party of Blackfeet numbering twenty-eight warriors, near Fremont's Peak, and, after a hard battle, killed twenty seven beaving but one to tell the story to twenty-seven, leaving but one to tell the story to his tribe. This is the most successful battle ever fought in the mountains. The Snakes lost not a fought in the mountains. The Snakes lost not a single brave. The wildest rejoicings were going on in the tribe—feasting, dancing, and all descriptions of savage orgies being carried on day and night. They were so elated that they sent a portion of their scalps by a French trader to the Sioux, having, as they said, more than they wanted.

On his way in Mr. Goodell saw a few lodges of Cheyennes. They told him that they had killed more whites than the whites had killed of them, and if the Government wanted to make peace they were willing; but if more fight was wanted they were ready. He also learned at Ash Hollow, through a Cheyenne squaw, the wife of a white man called ready. He also learned at Ash Hollow, through a Cheyenne squaw, the wife of a white man called Sailor Jack, that she had just returned from a visit to the village—that the Cheyennes were mostly collected on the Republican Fork of the Kansas, and that they were expecting a visit from the United States troops the coming summer. They did not expect or intend to fight the troops a great deal, but were going to put the women and children out of the way, and then scatter in small bands from the Platte to the Arkansas, and they say that they can. Platte to the Arkansas, and they say that they can, in that way, "kill all they want, and get plenty of white women for prisoners." This is their exact language.

Goodell met Long Chin, the Sioux chief who headed the murder of the mail party two years ago, and who was a prisoner for some time at Fort Leavenworth, at the trading house of Major Dripps at Ash Hollow, and had a long talk. Long Chin told him that the Cheyennes had sent word to the Sioux that if they would meet them at the Forks of the Platte and take their old men, women, and children to the lodges of the Sioux, north of the Platte, they would give them sixty or seventy horses and mules, and then the young men of the Sioux were to join them in their excursions against the emigrant trains on the plains.

But Long Chin said he had been down among the whites, on their big boats, and seen so many men, that he knew it was no use to fight, and that the Sioux would have nothing to do with the matter.

Goodell says that although Long Chin is the greatest rascal in the Sioux nation, yet he thinks he is breat in what he steld him.

est rascal in the Sioux nation, yet he thinks he is honest in what he told him.

He learned at Fort Laramie that the Indians had through some traders obtained large quantities of ammunition, in exchange for horses, and that they boast of being fully supplied for a long flight.

The Cheyennes say that Miss Wilson, who was taken prisoner at the time Babbitt was murdered, has since died.

From all the evidences we have leaved there will.

From all the evidences we have learned there will be serious troubles on the plains the present summer. This is the decided opinion of Mr. Goodell, who is one of the oldest, most experienced, and cool-headed one of the oldest, most experienced, and cool-headed mountaineers we have among us. He is a man of great intelligence, perfectly reliable, and has had an acquaintance of seventeen years with the mountains and the Indian tribes who inhabit that region.

The subjoined article, from the London Post. on the new treatment of cancer at the Middlesex Hospital, will be read with deep interest. If we may judge by his immense popularity in London, Dr. Fell, unlike his lyrical namesake, is no victim of blind prejudice:

Dr. Fell, unlike his lyrical namesake, is no victim of blind prejudice:

Our readers may not be aware that Middlesex Hospital differs from all other metropolitan institutions of a similar character, in having three wards specially devoted to the treatment of cancer. The opinions of medical men, as to the best mode of treatment, have in all times been greatly at variance; one party holding that there is no remedy but the knife; while another, pointing to the fact that in eight cases out of ten where the knife has been employed the disease reappears within a limited period, entertain the opinion that it is better to interfere as little as possible, experience having shown that patients thus treated lived longer than those operated on by the surgeon. The authofities of Middlesex Hospital have lately appealed to the benevolence of the public to enable them to extend their sphere of usefulness in the treatment of cancer, as a sudden influx of such cases had rendered their accommodations entirely in adequate to the demands made on them.

On inquiring into the cause of this large increase of patients in the cancer wards, we were informed that it arose from their having been placed under the direction of Dr. Fell, an American physician practicing in London, who has been exciting the utmost interest in the medical world by a new and very successful mode of treating this terrible disease. Entirely repudiating all recourse to the knife, this gentleman employs in his practice only external applications, which, in many instances, cause no pain, are to destroy the vitality of the diseased mass, to cause a gradual separation from the surrounding healthy tissue, and finally its spontaneous disengagement. The conduct of the governors and surgeous of Middlesex Hospital is deserving of the highest praise, for these gentlemen, having satisfied themselves by observation of cases in Dr. Fell's private practice that his mode of treatment realized all that was claimed for it, at once applied to him to take charge of the cancer wards o

A PEEP FOR THE POPULACE. - The Scientific American gives a very simple mode of examining the satellites of the planet Jupiter, the means used being so common as to be within the reach of all.

Every person can view them, by reflection, using a common looking glass for the purpose. On a clear night take a looking glass, and—either at the window or out of doors—so place it as to receive the impression of the planet. By a close examination of the planet as reflected in the glass, all its satellites will also be observed, provided none of them are eclipsed. It is rather remarkable, however, that although these satellites can thus be seen, while they cannot be seen by the needed every neither. Very cannot be seen, by the needed every neither. cannot be seen by the naked eye, neither Venus nor the moon can be seen so distinctly by reflection as they can be by observing them with the naked

France.—Infidelity of the Emperor.—It is beginning to be generally understood that the Emperor is gradually falling back into those voluptuous habits reports of which were so prevalent before his marriage. It is tolerably certain that the fascinations of the Empress keep him at home less and less, and that those of the Countess Castiglione are immediately in the ascendant. Before her house the same machinery is brought to bear that formerly surrounded Mrs. Howard's in the Rue de Cerqui—that is nolicemen and patrol are seen hovering about at is, policemen and patrol are seen hovering about at the corners of the streets leading toward it, and others immediately take up their stations before the gates, which, as if by enchantment, open at the ap-proach of a dark cabriolet, or rather brougham, and close instantaneously on its entrance. The magnifi-cent presents, in the shape of jewelry, which find their way into the interior, are said to be of fabu-

She has great powers of conversation, accompa-nied by a sweet silvery voice that adds an inexpres-sible charm. She speaks English with only just sufficient foreign accentuation to increase its beauty. A gentleman who saw her at one of the late balls thus describes her appearance:

"She wore her hair in the style of Louis Quinze.
It really stood up on high at least twelve or four-teen inches. How much of borrowed plumage there might be I cannot pretend to guess, but the whole effect was equal to an ordinary grenadier's bear-skin cap; and yet, monstrous as the thing was bear-skin cap; and yet, monstrous as the thing was and surely most unbecoming to two-thirds of wo-mankind, it seemed to give increased beauty to the features of this being, who has crossed with her dark shadow the threshold of Eugenie. The large rolls of hair appeared to shade off the too great brilliancy of the eye, and to give increased refinement to the features generally. She looked like one of those beautiful grandames we are accustomed only to see in old ancestral halls, to marvel how they steered those lofty coiffures and rich brocade they steered those lofty confures and rich brocade and expansive hoop, in the dance which tradition has said they loved so well; but here, instead of the nas said they loved so well; but here, instead of the painted canvas, it was a beautiful reality of flesh and blood. Her robe was a rich brocade, with a blue stripe, with the waist remarkably short. As she donned her exquisite sortee du bal, and put out her tiny feet to be incased in fur slippers by the rude hand of her footman, many a knight might have envied the man in plush his happy fortune.

How to Jump off the Cars .- Unless you intend suicide don't jump from the cars when in motion; but if you think you must, and won't be persuaded to behave like a sensible man, this is probably the to behave like a sensible man, this is probably the way to do it: jump sidewise, as high as you can and when in the air screw your legs up and bend the head forward. You will strike the ground with that part of the body that is or should be cushioned by nature for the purpose, and you will roll away from the train in the manner of a wheel. Hands, to avoid scratches, had better be in the trousers pockets. If you survive the operation you will feel better, it is quite likely, than if you had blundered off without regard to the rules of science and broken your neck or cracked the dome of thought. One experiment will probably satisfy you as to the convenience and comfort of this method of getting off the cars.—Springfield Republican.

A BEAUTIFUL SIGHT.—During the late severe weather, the birds have had hard trials to obtain food for subsistance. In passing the residence of Hon. Wm. Sam'l Johnson, in this village, on Mon-Hon. Wm. Sam'l Johnson, in this village, on Monday and Tuesday mornings last, we saw more than two hundred birds, of all species—from the robin to the wren—which had a bountiful table spread before them, in the yard, of millet and other (to them) delicacies of the season. It was really a lamentable yet beautiful sight! They looked like so many young turkeys, ducks, and chickens. They partook freely of the hospitality of the mansion, and then would fly from branch to branch in the thick shrubbery around, singing and chirping, as though, like the organ-grinder, to pay for the bountiful repast, which had been served up to them! They have found good fquarters, and their numbers seem to be increasing, as though by instinct. They will be cared for.

It Wouldn't Do Now.—Pittacus, one of the seven wise men of Greece, made a law that every man who committed a fault, in a state of intoxication, should receive a double punishment. What an awful load some folks would have to bear if that law were in vogue now—but it ought to be.

Two Scotch gentlemen went to Ireland to make a Two Scotch gentlemen went to Ireland to make a tour, and to see the natives. One of them, one drizzly day, bet the other the price of their dinner and a bottle of wine, that the first Pat' they found would be too much for them. A diminutive fellow, with an old frieze coat and a piece of a hat, was trying to plow with a pony under the shelter of a row of trees. "Pat," said our friend. "Yes, yer honor," he replied. "If the devil was to come just now, which one of us three would he take?" "Sure he'd take me, yer honor!" "But why so, Pat?" "Casehe's sure of your honors at any time."

We would invite the special attention of per sons, especially ladies, in want of the richest and newest styles of fancy dress goods and the best brands of staple goods to the stock at the store of G. B. Tabb, corner Fourth and Market streets. At this house can be found styles of goods not to be found in any other house in the market, which in point of beauty and elegance cannot be excelled. Ladies visiting our city will find it greatly to their advantage to give this house a call and examine the various kinds of goods before making their purchases. His stock of silk and lace mantillas is the largest in the city, embracing a variety of new and desirable styles. His stock of silks, berege and grenadine robes, embroideries, and lace goods cannot be excelled by any Western house. He has also a large and well selected stock of cottonades, heavy cotton drills, plaid cottons, osnaburgs, &c., for servants. Call and examine the stock of this house before you make your purchases, and we feel sure in saying that you will be convinced that this is the house to buy good and cheap goods.

ADJOURNED MEETING OF THE REVISION ASSO-CIATION-THE REV. MR. BREAKER OF SOUTH CAR-OLINA .- A number of the delegates to the anniversary meeting of this body were delayed in their journey to this place and did not reach here in time to meet the Association. Among these gentlemen was the Rev. Mr. Breaker, who had been requested to deliver an address at the anniversary. Dispatches were received during the meeting from these gentlemen, and as there was reason to expect their arrival early this week, the Association adjourned to Thursday night. That adjourned meeting will be held to-night for the purpose of hearing the address of Mr. Breaker. He is one of the most popular and influential Baptists in South Carolina, and will address himself to-night to answering objections to the revision of the Scriptures. The public are invited to attend. The meeting will be held in the Baptis Church, corner of Walnut and Fourth streets.

What has become of the Street Inspectors? Nearly all the streets are in a most filthy condition. The stench on Third street is perfectly shocking. It happens, not unfrequently, that carrion is permitted to lie in the street several days before it is removed. It is not to be expected that the Inspectors can visit every part of their district daily, but the day watchmen, who do little, at any rate, should notify the Inspectors of the nuisances forthwith. We understand that the carcase of a dog was lying lately near a pump on Second street for two days.

PORK STILL ON THE RISE .- There were sales this morning of 600 bbls mess pork in two lots, (350 and 250 bbls), at $22 50 cash, and 18,000 bacon shoulders at 9 cents, loose. Yésterday 100 hhds bacon shoulders sold at 9 cents packed. This is an advance on mess pork of fully 50 cents per bbl, and on shoulders of about 1/4c.

The river is still rising and many boats not deeply laden go over the falls without falls pilots. For Memphis-The elegant steamer Northerner, Capt. Smith, has arrived from Memphis, crowded with passengers, who speak in the highest terms of the boat and her officers. We are indebted to her gentlemanly clerks, Messrs. Archer and Mullikin, for a memorandum. The Northerner will start for Memphis from the city wharf at 4 o'clock to-morrow evening.

POLICE PROCEEDINGS .- Thursday, May 7 .- Up-Town Scandal .- Certain circles in the First Ward have been for some time busying themselves about the domestic troubles of Michael Grass, an ex-policeman. His wife has left him several times, and but a few days since eloped with a young man. These difficulties have driven Grass to hard drinking. Last night he was arrested and a bowie knife found in his possession, for having which he was required to give security.

Old Tippecanoe .- Col. Robert Alexander, connected with some of the Bourbon nabobs and a veteran relic of the Indian fight at Tippecanoe, continues to do service in the whisky ranks. Yesterday he was badly wounded and laid out in the sun to recover. Workhouse three months.

Fighting Patricks .- Last night Pat Fahay and Pat Lynch went to a dance on the levee, got tight, and got into a fight, as a matter of course. They were arrested and consigned to the workhouse for two months. Disorderly .- Levi Timmons, who came here from Madison but a few days since, was very drunk and disorderly, near the Rolling Mill. Required to give bail in $200 to keep the peace three months.

Stealing Bacon .- Frank Craig, a slave of Spotswood Dodge, was arrested, having in his possession five pieces of stolen bacon, which he was about to dispose of to some grocery-keeper who deals with thieving negroes. Ordered to receive twenty-five stripes. Horse Lost and Woman Found.-Last night a horse belonging to Mr. Collier was lost or stolen out of and red at $1 60@1 66. Corn quoted at 72@74 for white Mr. Johnson's livery stable. In searching for it, a and 78@76 for yellow. Sales whisky at 29@30. white woman named Mary Jane Smith was discovered lying loose among the straw. Jim Glasgow, a day. free boy, was held over; Allen, a slave of Col. English, was consigned to his master, to receive such punishment as he thought proper; and the Smith woman sent to the workhouse three months for cohabiting with negroes.

JEFFERSON CIRCUIT COURT—Criminal Term— Thursday, May 7.—The grand jury returned indictments against James Adams, George Taylor, Lindsey Stewart, and Jacob Prope.

Hung Jury.—In the case of Walter West, for passing counterfeit money, the jury was unable to come to an agreement. This is the third time the present week the same jury has been undecided. The members were escorted to dinner under charge of Capt. Megowan.

Continued .- The cases of Pat McHugh, for murder, and Edward Bauman, for embezzlement, were con-

Acquitted .- Pat Welsh, stealing hogs, and James Johnson, stealing ware from steamboat Monarch, were acquitted.

Plead Guilty .- George Simpson plead guilty of the charge of stealing a coat, and was sentenced to the penitentiary for four years.

Case Set .- The trial of James Lynch, for stealing a flatboat load of potatoes, was fixed for May 9. Nol. Pros.-A nolle prosequi was entered by Mr.

Craig in the case of Jacob Kimmel for stealing money. Bailed Out .- Michael Hargadon, for the murder of Medley, was admitted to bail in $1,000, J. C.

THE CROPS IN WEST TENNESSEE.

To the Editors of the Louisville Bulletin:

Gentlemen: Thinking you may find space in your columns for a few remarks on the prospects for a crop this year, I proceed to offer you a few. The prospects have never before been so cloomy at this season in West Tennessee. Corn has been planted mostly a month age, and has never made its appearance out of the ground; although it is sprouted, it still keeps sound in the ground. A great many are laying off their fields anew, and planting again. Tobacco plants are almost entirely killed. Planters who have reserved ground for tobacco are planting it in corn. Numbers of them think a crop of tobacco this year is out of the question. There will not be half a crop of tobacco made in these parts. The wheat is badly injured; early wheat, it is believed, is almost entirely destroyed, some of it having been jointed. As for the fruit crop, it is wholly destroyed; hardly a peach, apple, pear, or plum is to be found in large orchards that never before failed entirely. Early trees, that were green six weeks ago, are now perfectly bare. Cast your eye over the woods and they look just as they do in November. Indeed, the appearance of the country is more like fall than spring.

Your friend and subscriber,

THOS. D. MARTIN.

WASHINGTON, May 6.

There was a difficulty to-day at Willard's Hotel between J. McLeod Murphy and Daniel E. Sickles. Murphy on Sunday addressed a note to Sickles, accusing him of assailing his private character by un-just imputations in his efforts to effect Murphy's re-moval as Civil Engineer at the Brooklyn Navy

Sickles replied that the note was only a vague and Sickles replied that the note was only a vague and unmeaning menace, and, as such, he had already taken too much notice of it, Murphy not giving his author, and the particulars of the allegation.

Murphy yesterday sent Major Watkins to see Sickles, when the latter demanded the name of his informer and on whose statements Murphy backed his charge, and denied the right to be interrogated

Murphy considering Sickles's note insulting, sent a challenge through Watkins. In his reply Sickles said he had not used language which cast imputations on Murphy's honor, and that there was no ground on which he could demand an explanation or a hostile meeting.

A hostile meeting.

Here the correspondence rests. This morning
Murphy obtained admission to a chamber where Sickles was in bed, and attempted to cowhide him.

A struggle ensued. Sickles obtained possession of the weapon, and dealt him a blow on the face with his hand.

showing the foreign commerce of each State for each year from 1820 to 30th June, 1856. This series of tables demonstrates the imports and exports, and tonnage, &c., for each fiscal year, and thus exhibits the comparative growth of each State.

A second series of papers is now commenced in the same work, of far more importance to the financial community and to the political economist. This is a tabular view of the finances of each State for each fiscal year from 1825 to 1856—showing I. The aggregate funded debt at the end of each year. II. The annual interest on such debt. III. The aggregate taxable property in the State each year. IV. The gross revenue of the State. V. Gross expenditures. To this is added, by some of the treasurers the balance of available fund in the State Treasury at the end of each year.

This series of tables will show, more clearly than any other documents can do, the past and present any other documents can do, the past and present financial condition of the State, and will enable per-sons at a distance to estimate more clearly the value sons at a distance to estimate more clearly the value of State funded debts.

We have already published a synopsis of the progress of the State of Ohio in the above particulars. Maryland exhibits a still stronger position financially. By a wise provision at the time her large debt was contracted, a sinking fund was created, the operation of which will cancel the whole debt before its ation of which will cancel the whole debt before its maturity. This fund is already one-third or more of the debt, and will by its own accumulating powers be equal to the principal in less than ten years.

Maryland suspended specie payment on its interest, when financial troubles prevailed also in Pennsylvania, Indiana, Illinois, &c., but Maryland resumed payment in January, 1848, when the yearly interest was $657,000, and at the same time funded the arrears of interest up to that year. The taxable property of the State was then about one hundred and ninety millions, yielding a revenue of $1,000,000. The property is now over two hundred and fifty millions at low assessments, and the revenue is $1,230,000; showing that the burdens of taxaand mry minions at row assessments, and the level nue is $1,230,000; showing that the burdens of taxation are much lighter provata than twenty years ago. The gross disbursements of the State for the year are less than one-sixth those of the city of New York. In order to show the progress of Maryland since 1833, we extract from the official report in the Magazine the following items:

| azine tl | ne following item | S: | |
|----------|-------------------------|--------------------|------------------------------|
| Year. | Funded Debt. | Ann'l Int. | Taxable Prop'y. |
| 1833 | $1,139,000 | $54,900 | ************** |

DAILY REVIEW OF THE MARKET, LOUISVILLE, May 7. \(\)
We have no change to notice in the money market.

Currency is still scarce, but the demand is not as large as it has been. Eastern exchange is rather easier, but rates have thus far undergone no change, and we continue to quote it at $\frac{1}{2}$ to 1 prem. and New Orleans par to $\frac{1}{2}$ prem.

Flour and grain have a decided upward tendency, and the stocks are light. The steamer's news, received last night, quotes an advance. Last evening a sale of 500 bbls superfine was made from a mill at $6.25 and a sale of 3(0bbls white wheat flour from store at $6 40; small lots of the latter brought $6 50. Wheat we continue to quote at $1 15 for red and $1 25 for white, and very little arriving. Corn very firm; a sale of 150 sacks mixed from store at 78c, sacks included. Oats continue to sell from store at 60c.

The provision market was also firm. We notice sales of 258 bbls mess pork at $22, 128 bbls at the same, 253 bbls M. O. at $21, and 157 casks bacon on orders, mostly sides, at 11%c for ribbed and 12%c for clear sides, and 12 for Falls City hams. ₹About 100 kegs prime lard sold on orders at

Very little was done in groceries. Sugar is firm with an upward tendency. Sales of 12 hhds at 12½c, 20 at 12c, and 10 at 11½@12c. Some holders were asking 12½c for choice. About 20 bbls refined sold at 14%c. Li₅ht sales of molar-ses at 68c for bbls and 69 for half bbls. Sales of 20 pkgs St. Louis golden syrup at 97, 100, and 105c for bbls, half bbls, and kegs. Coffee quiet with small sales at 11%@11%c for Rio and 13c for Laguayra. Sales of 8 tierces rice at 5½c. In bagging, a sale of 150 pieces at 16c and about 550 colls hand-spun rope at 81/2c. Sales of 39 hhds tobacco-7 at $7 30, $7 55, $8 10, $9, $9 30, $10 05, and $10 55, 7 at $11@11 95, 6 at 12@12 75, 5 at $13 05@13 90, 4 at $14@14 50, 6 at $15@15 80, and 4 at $16

55, $17 40, $18 25, and $19 25.
Whisky continues firm at 25%c for raw.

Small sales of mackerel at previous rates.

Sales of bar lead at 7%c. The 100 tons hay at the mouth of Salt river, which wa sold a few days ago, was resold yesterday at $28 per ton. Freights still lower—shipments to New Orleans at 50c for pork and 60c per bbl for whisky from city wharf. To Wheeling and Pittsburg 15 and 18@20c.

NEW YORK, May 6, P. M. Cotton market depressed-sales of only 750 bales owing to disappointment of the advices brought by the Europa Flour firm with sales of 20,000 bbls. Wheat buoyant-70. 000 bushels red Southern at $1 68%. Corn firm and sales of 25,000 bushels at 83c. Pork and beef firm. Coffee dull. Linseed oil quoted at 81c. Hemp closed quiet. Stocks

New York Cattle Market, May 6. Beeves have declined fully 1/2c and the market closed dull. Receipts amounted to 2,900 head. Sheep and lambs declined $1 per head. Swine slightly lower and sales of good prime at $7@7 50.

CINCINNATI, May 6, P. M. Flour in fair demand at full rates; sales of 11,000 bbls at $6 25 for superfine, and $6 40@6 50 for extra; 400 bbls extra sold at Clarksville; Indiana at $6; receipts fair. Whisky very firm; sales of 1,500 bbls at 25c. Butter firm at 22 @24c for roll. Provisions buoyant and somewhat excited: mess Pork sold at $22 25@22 50; bacon to the extent of 300 hhds 9@11c for shoulders and sides, latter now held at 11%, and 200,000 in bulk at 8c for shoulders and 10c for sides. Groceries very firm, good demand at full prices Rye advanced; sales of 1,600 bush at $1 15@1 18 and very scarce.
